

Frontline Sales Associate

The Cornell Store is in search of dependable and motivated individuals to join our talented team of energetic and creative people who offer amazing customer service as they assist customers with selections and merchandise product as it arrives. Our sales associates ensure that our customers are served as quickly and efficiently as possible.

We will value your:

- Ability to make a great, positive, long lasting first impression
- Excellent interpersonal skills with both customers and associates
- Pleasant personality and energy
- Good communication skills
- Strong customer service skills and selling techniques
- Capacity to exercise independent responsibility
- Quick learning ability
- Proficiency in Point of Sale functions

Schedules include a variety of day, and weekend hours. Training is provided.

You will enjoy The Cornell Store community where people gather to check out the latest in technology, products and apparel and to meet friends over lunch or coffee.